Hamilton Springs Train Station to Open August 27 Music City Star Schedule times for riders at other stations to change

NASHVILLE – The Hamilton Springs Station, part of Tennessee’s first transit-oriented development community and the seventh stop along Tennessee’s only commuter rail line, will open for service on the morning of Monday, August 27. The station, located at 1000 Gaston Park Drive in Lebanon, features a park-and-ride that is available for the public to use while riding the Music City Star.

On the morning of Thursday, September 6, developers, elected officials, and RTA representatives will gather at the Hamilton Springs Train Station to formally celebrate the station’s opening. Information on that event is forthcoming.

The addition of the Hamilton Springs stop means the service schedule for the Music City Star’s morning and afternoon commutes will change, with passengers at the other five outlying stations needing to prepare to board just a few minutes earlier than they currently do. The new schedule, effective Monday, August 27, is below:
